

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

The ante-Easter social campaign continued its uninteresting and inactive course last week, with slight variations in the way of gayety. Whether it was the combination of wind and cold, or something else, cannot be said, but certainly the week was almost without social incident of any considerable importance. Count Hadik's domino supper, on Tuesday night at the Mendelssohn Assembly Rooms, in West Fifty-fifth-st., was, of course, the particularly bright spot in the week, so far as society was concerned. It was a handsome and unique entertainment, the decorations of the familiar ballroom being almost entirely of rich Oriental stuffs and embroideries, with an effective dash of ascension lilies and growing palm trees. The small tents arranged along the two sides of the room were hung with exquisite Indian cloths and embroideries, and Indian rugs of great value and beauty covered the floor of each of these inclosures. Supper was served in the tents by Berger. The small tables, each laid for six or eight persons, were covered with Oriental cloth. The attendants were in oriental costume. Mrs. Ogden Mills assisted the host to receive the guests, who were invited to come at 11 o'clock. There was dancing before and after supper. Count Hadik, who goes abroad in a short time, expects to return in time for the New-daughter, Mrs. Dillon Oliver, will also go abroad, sailing on April 25.

Miss Louisa Eder, the eldest daughter of James M. Eder, will be married to Samuel Jacobs at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening, March 19, at the home of her father, No. 123 West Eightieth-st. Miss Belle Schattman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Schattman, will be married to Isaac Cohn, at 6:30 o'clock on Wednesday evening, March 18, at Sherry's.

Among the engagements announced last week were those of Mrs. Thomas Sloane to James L. Barclay; Miss Edith Whitman Colfax, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Colfax, of No. 9 East Seventy-seventh-st., to William B. Aitken; Miss Louise Stake, of Stapleton, Staten Island, to J. C. L. Byrnes, also of Stapleton; Miss Mabel Harriette Knight, daughter of Mrs. Charles Knight, to Alexander Hamilton Phillips, of Princeton, N. J., and Mrs. Rita Hone Mackay Wilkes, a daughter of the late Philip Hone, to Leroy Jones, the youngest son of Mrs. Herman Leroy Jones, of this city.

The second in the course of Lenten lectures for the benefit of the Ladies' Association of the J. Hood Wright Memorial Hospital will be given at the Waldorf on Thursday morning next, when Mr. and Mrs. Hector Hall will appear in "Old Country Sayings and Songs." Other lectures are set for March 26 and April 9. The meetings of the Amusement Club, which is one of the most popular of the Lenten social organizations, are well attended. On Thursday evening of this week the members of the club will be the guests of Mrs. J. Edgar Bull, No. 34 Gramercy Park.
